CORK CITY COUNCIL

CORK CITY DEVELOPMENT PLAN

VOLUME 1: MAIN STRATEGY

2004

COMHAIRLE CATHRACH CHORCAÍ
PLEAN FORBARTHA CHATHAIR CHORCAÍ

Cork City Council formally made this Development Plan on 8th December 2003. It came into operation on 5th January 2004.

The Plan sets out Cork City Council's planning policies for the City for the next six years and will remain in force until late 2009.

Foreword

Cork City is poised for a major improvement in its economic, social and cultural position. Extensive redevelopment of the City Centre is underway to a value of several hundred million Euro. The public realm of the City is undergoing a major refurbishment ranging from Blackpool Village to Shandon Street to Patrick Street and Oliver Plunkett Street. The Cork Main Drainage Scheme which is the single largest infrastructural project in the City for many years is nearing completion and will deliver a very much improved river environment for the City in the near future.

The City Centre retains its status as the premier shopping destination for the people of Cork and Munster and major retail, office and residential developments are about to commence in the City Centre. The development of the €500m Mahon Point Centre adds significantly to the shopping choice available to the consumer. The development of the business park, hotel and housing in the Mahon area adds to its attractiveness as a centre for employment and residence.

The overall economy of the City is robust and is supporting over 72,000 jobs, an increase of 23,000 from 1996. The City Centre supports almost 30,000 jobs. The Cork area is well placed to take advantage of opportunities for further growth.

The Cork City Development Plan 2004 is the first Development Plan for the City prepared under the Planning & Development Act 2000. The preparation of the Plan involved an extensive process of consultation with the public and the various stakeholders in the City with the active involvement of the Members of the City Council. The Plan was prepared and adopted within the various time limits set out in the Act.

The Development Plan is set within the overall national, regional and sub-regional planning contexts. It has taken account of the National Spatial Strategy, the National Development Plan, the Cork Area Strategic Plan and national and regional policies regarding sustainable development, anti-poverty strategies and transport.

The City Development Plan 2004 is a totally new plan for the City and sets out a new vision for the development of the City. The plan is extremely wide ranging and comprehensive, covering enterprise and employment, transportation, social issues and housing, the built environment and urban design, environmental management, natural heritage and recreation, the City Centre and Docklands, policies for suburban areas, development control standards and environmental appraisal. The detailed policies relating to these issues are set out in the Plan. However, some of the key points in the Plan are:

- A regenerated City Centre, in physical, economic and social terms;
- An integrated and balanced transport system;
- Policies for the Cork City Docklands which set out the potential for the creation of a new city quarter of mixed uses and sufficient scale to bring about an urban renaissance in Cork and elevate it to a city of European significance;
- Policies for landscape protection which seek to conserve and enhance the strongly distinctive landscape character of the City;
- Policies for high quality urban design which provide for conservation and Areas of Special Character but which also encourage high quality contemporary and innovative architecture.

The City Council is committed to promoting social inclusion and will address social inclusion issues through the Development Plan and the ongoing Corporate Planning Process and Service Delivery.

The City has been honoured with the designation of European Capital of Culture for 2005. The cultural life of the City has already benefited significantly from the designation and the year itself is a once-off opportunity to celebrate and promote the culture of the City on an international stage. The benefits of a successful year of Culture will be apparent for many years to come.

The Cork City Development Plan 2004 plots a course for significant physical growth and renewal, high quality employment and economic activity and a socially and culturally inclusive city which is internationally recognised as an excellent place in which to live, work and invest.

We would like to thank all members of staff who have helped in the preparation of this Plan, the elected members of the Council for their valuable input and in particular to acknowledge the contribution of Ms. Ann Bogan, Senior Planner and her team whose expertise and commitment is evident throughout the Plan.

Is é Plean Forbartha Chathair Chorcaí 2004 an chéad Plean Forbartha don Chathair, ullmhaithe faoin Acht um Pleanáil agus Fhorbairt 2000. Ullmhaíodh agus glacadh leis an bPlean laistigh den tréimhse ama atá luaite san Acht.

Tá áireamh déanta ann ar an Straitéis Spáis Náisiúnta, an Plean Náisiúnta Forbartha, Plean Straitéiseach Cheannatar Chorcaí agus polasaithe Náisiúnta agus Réigiúnda maidir le Forbairt Marthanach, Straitéisí Frith-Bhochtahais agus Iompar.

Is Plean nua ar fad don Chathair é Plean Forbartha na Cathrach 2004 agus leagann sé amach fíis nua d'fhorbairt na Cathrach. Tá na mionpholasaithe a bhaineann leis an na nithe seo leagtha amach sa Phlean. Seo iad cuid de na príomhphointí atá sa Phlean, áfach:

Tá an Chomhairle Cathrach faoi cheangal comháireamh sóisialta a chur chun cinn agus tabharfaidh aghaidh ar chuimsiú sóisialta tríd an bPlean Forbartha agus an Proiséas Pleanála Corparáide agus an Fuascailt Seirbhíse.

Is onóir don Chathair é a bheith ina Príomhchathair Chultúrtha na hEorpa don bhliain 2005. Tá saol cultúrtha na Cathrach go mór chun sochair de bharr an teidil agus is deis í an bhliain chun ceiliúradh a dhéanamh ar chultúr na Cathrach agus í a chur chun cinn ar an stáitse idirnáisiúnta. Beidh tairbhe dea-bhlíana Cultúir le feiscint go ceann i bhfad.

Leagann Plean Forbartha Chathair Chorcaí 2004 cúrsa amach d'fhorbairt suntasach fisiciúil, fostaíocht d'ardchaighdeán agus gníomhaíocht eacnamúil agus Cathair ina mbeadh comháireamh sóisialta agus cultúrtha a mbeadh aitheantas idirnáisiúnta aici ar a feabhas chun cónaithe, chun oibre agus chun infheistíochta.
